Dear colleagues,

The Seventh IMF Statistical Forum will take place at the IMF Headquarters in Washington, D.C. during November 14–15, 2019. The theme for this year's Forum is Measuring the Informal Economy.

As you may know, the Forum is a platform for policymakers, academics, researchers, and compilers of economic and financial data to come together to discuss cutting-edge issues in macroeconomic and financial statistics and to build support for statistical improvements. This year's Forum will include conceptual papers and country case studies on the following topics: (i) Definition and Scope of the Informal Economy; (ii) Traditional Estimation Practices: Determining the Level and Growth of the Informal Economy; (iii) New Technologies and New Potential Data Sources—Innovation and Big Data; and (iv) Measuring Informal Cross-border Flows.

The Forum is now open for registration, and anyone interested should complete the online registration at the Forum website, by Friday, October 25, 2019.

Please note that participants are expected to cover the cost of their travel, accommodation, and other travel-related expenses, and make their own travel arrangements.

If you have any questions, please send an e-mail to STAForum@imf.org.

Sincerely,
IMF Statistical Forum Organizing Committee
